Waveland considering new animal control ordinance

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Board of Aldermen is considering a new animal control ordinance for the city.

The aldermen took the matter under advisement Wednesday night, but further discussion is expected after Ward Three Alderman Louis Smolensky, the city's representative on the Hancock County Animal Commission, presents the proposal to the commission next week.

The proposed ordinance would be in addition to an already existing leash ordinance which prohibits animals from running at large, Attorney Lucien Gex said.

The proposed ordinance, drafted by City Animal Warden Ed Abson and presented to the aldermen by Gex, contains several passages that Gex said "will be very effective."

"Unfortunately, it also contains some sections that might be a problem in Waveland," Gex said.

He said those sections would probably have to be altered, dropped or covered by a grandfather clause in the final draft of the proposal.

Ward Four Alderman Herman Yarborough said many of the provisions in the current proposal had been included in the city's previous attempts to provide animal control.

The proposal prohibits allowing animals to run at large and inhumane treatment of animals, including leaving them in closed vehicles when the outside temperature is more than 70 degrees.

Other proposed restrictions include keeping any animal that by habitual and frequent barking and howling disturbs a neighborhood within the city limits; keeping vicious or dangerous animals; and keeping animals in unsanitary, unhealthy or publicly offensive quarters.

The proposal also outlines the procedures dealing with redemption and disposition of animals impounded for running at large, suspected of having transmittable diseases or for observation after having bitten someone.

Procedures concerning licensing and vaccinations for transmittable diseases are also included.

Gex said areas that need to be refined for the final ordinance include a limit of four on the number of cats and dogs more than six months old that may be kept by one owner and restrictions on the number of fowl and livestock that may be kept.

Gex also said that a requirement that livestock be kept not closer than 150 feet to any adjoining property line might have to be changed to be more in keeping with the average lot size in Waveland.

Provisions against keeping reptiles and wild animals, including raccoons, skunks and possums, are also included.

In other business, the board: —Purchased a fence for placement behind the Waveland Civic Center; and —Proclaimed Sept. 21-27 National School Bus Safety Week at the request of the Bay-Waveland School District;

The board's next meeting will be 7:30 p.m. Oct. 7 at City Hall.

Law enforcement consolidation remains 'long range' possibility

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Consolidation of law enforcement agencies in Hancock County continues to be a very "long range" possibility.

Members of the Law Enforcement Task Force decided Thursday to have area planning agencies begin a study to determine the feasibility of merging various law enforcement services but generally appeared to be wary of consolidation.

"I am not in favor of rushing into anything in the next couple of months," Waveland Mayor John Longo said.

He added that consolidation of investigating procedures may be a start but opposed combining dispatching services.

Hancock County Supervisor A. A. Kellar also appeared to be hesitant about consolidation.

"If the sheriff's office was centrally located in the county it would be a different situation but the bulk of law enforcement services already exist in the cities," he said.

Sometimes it takes two hours for a deputy to respond to a call in the north end of the county," he added.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson agreed that response time in the outer edges of the county was slower than in the immediate area of the sheriff's office.

He also pointed out that the majority of the population is located in this area.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr. said he was in favor of combining the Bay's dispatching services with those of the county when the new jail is open.

Frankiewicz also supported combining record keeping procedures and training for law enforcement officers.

Longo agreed with the need for coordination of training.

He added police officers from both cities should be deputized by the sheriff to prevent any legal problems that should arise when they provide mutual aid outside of their jurisdiction.

Longo recommended the officials return to their respective boards and continue the discussion before going any further.

Jeff Taylor of South Mississippi Planning and Development District and David Taylor of Gulf Regional Planning Commission will prepare preliminary reports on consolidation of some services for the task force's meeting next month.

$10,000 reward offered for whereabouts of Jones

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A $10,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the whereabouts and return of Diamondhead businessman T.C. Jones.

Jones was last seen at 8:10 p.m. on September 18 by an elderly aunt and was reported missing the next morning by his wife, Shirley.

Mrs. Jones had visited the family's farm in Stone County on the day her husband was last seen and found him missing upon her return that night.

An intensive search has been conducted since Friday a week ago for Jones and is being continued, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said Saturday.

"We even started some dragging and diving in the Jourdan River near the I-10 bridge on Friday. The Hancock County Dive Squad is being assisted by divers from the Gulfport Police Department in the search," Peterson added.

The $10,000 reward is being offered by business associates of Jones from Picayune, Gulfport and Louisiana.

Many volunteers have also been helping in combing the woods in the Diamondhead area.

"Jones is the owner of T.C. Jones Nursery & Supplies at Diamondhead."

"Everyone we have talked to who knows Jones indicates it would be highly unlikely for him to have left home without telling anyone," Peterson stated.

The sheriff continued, "At this time, we are treating the matter as if foul play had occurred."

None of the family vehicles are missing, Peterson commented.

Jones, 57, is described as five foot seven inches tall, 170-175 pounds with brown eyes and balding grey hair, and always wearing a jump suit.

Peterson is asking anyone who may have seen Jones since Thursday night, or has any information to his whereabouts, to please call his office at 467-5101.

Peterson, Hancock County Criminal Investigators Delbert Seay, Glen Strong and Alvin Ladner, and Hancock County Deputy Sheriff's Nathan Hoda and James Ladner, are among those investigating the case.

Industrial officials plan to promote Gulf Coast

The industrial development boards in Harrison, Hancock and Jackson Counties have joined forces to explore areas in which the three coast counties could work together to promote the Gulf Coast and the region.

The decision was made during a luncheon meeting Thursday, Sept. 18, attended by 10 members of the Harrison County Development Commission, four members of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, eight members of the Jackson County Economic Development District, Harrison County Board of Supervisors President Hue Snowden and Hancock County Board of Supervisors President A.A. Kellar.

Presidents of each of the industrial development groups will appoint a board member plus an executive director of each county to develop plans to outline ways in which the counties can pursue joint economic opportunities.

This special committee will meet at least once each month and report its recommendations to the full three-county board later this year.

Legal opinion to be issued this week on petition against hospital zoning

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

An opinion on the legality of a petition against hospital-clinic zoning is expected to be released this week by Bay St. Louis attorneys.

Bay Mayor Victor Frankiewicz said Attorneys Robert Genin and John Scaife will report whether the petition can be legally recognized under Mississippi and city zoning ordinances.

"I asked the attorneys to look into the petition very carefully because this is such a controversial issue and we want to be sure it is decided in a completely legal way," Frankiewicz said.

The petition, which requests no zoning change to the area around the hospital, was presented last week at a Bay Council meeting.

The petition was presented following a 3-2 vote by the council in favor of rezoning four lots fronting on Drinkwater Road from residential property to hospital-clinic zone.

There are 130 signatures of area residents against any rezoning, J. P. Compretta told the board.

City Clerk Edward Favre told the council that should the petition prove to include the necessary signatures of area residents protesting the zoning, the council's 3-2 vote would not be sufficient for the rezoning.

A two-thirds margin of approval or 4-1 vote is necessary when a legal petition is presented, he continued.

The city has lost so many zoning challenges over the past decade it is necessary to be particularly careful, he added.

"We also want to be sure that the issue is decided in a way that is fair and legal for both sides," Frankiewicz said.

The attorneys have nearly completed extensive research into the issue, he said.

"It is not a clear cut issue because state law on zoning is in my opinion very poorly defined and the case law on zoning is not very consistent," Frankiewicz added.

If the petition is found to be valid, the zoning change stands.

603 COLLISION—A 1983 Chevrolet pick-up truck is hitched up to Mike Pernicelli's wrecker for towing after the truck collided with a farm tractor at about 12:30 p.m. Saturday on Highway 603 just south of LaFrance Grocery. According to State Trooper Houston Dorr II, the truck was apparently trying to pass the tractor in rainy weather when the driver spotted oncoming traffic, tried to get back into his own lane and hit the tractor sideways. Injured were the truck's driver, Leo Schwartz, 23, of Bay St. Louis; passengers David Schwartz, 27, of Bay St. Louis, and John Lee, 22, of Standard; and tractor driver Jimmie Candebat, 14, of Kiln. All four were taken to Hancock General Hospital by Mobile Medic Ambulance service. The accident is still under investigation. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Architects to address school board

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Bay-Waveland School District Board has called a special meeting Monday to allow architects to present their proposals on a long-range building program.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the Bay Senior High library, which is being used rather than the board's usual meeting room in order to allow architects to use overhead projectors and other visual aids in their presentations. Superintendent of Education Roger Oge said.

Oge said Friday that 10 architects had been scheduled to make presentations.

Presentations will be limited to 15 minutes but architects may use any format.

Any part of that 15 minutes may be allocated to a question-and-answer session.

The superintendent said he plans to recommend that the board select three finalists from the 10 architects and allow those three to make more detailed presentations at a later meeting.

Oge said he plans to request that the second meeting be scheduled within the next week.

The district presently has a proposed building program which is about five years old but has never been used. If the existing plan is selected, it may have to be modified before it can be used.

A building plan is needed because of overcrowding in the district, Oge said. At a board meeting earlier this month, principals from North Bay Elementary, Waveland Elementary, Bay Junior High and Bay Senior High schools all reported increases in enrollment with new students continuing to arrive daily.

County Agent's Notes

FERTILIZING LAWNS?

Fertilizing your lawn may be the last thing on your mind this late in the year. But applying the right kind of fertilizer can help your grass survive a harsh winter and get it off to a better start next spring.

Fall application of potash fertilizer helps many lawn grasses. This is sold as muriate of potash with a fertilizer analysis of 0-0-60. The fertilizer contains no nitrogen, which can increase winter injury in some grasses.

Potash helps your grass by making it more winter-hardy. The material actually acts as an antifreeze in the plant tissue and protects the plants from freeze damage.

Apply the material carefully. The rate is 1 1/2 pounds of 0-0-60 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet of lawn. It's best to use a fertilizer spreader to distribute the material evenly.

FOR SPRING FLOWERS
If you want beautiful flowers next spring, now is the time to start. Daffodils, tulips and Dutch irises are favorites because they bloom every year with little trouble.

One common mistake in planting fall bulbs is improper site selection. Flowering bulbs perform best in full sun and well-drained soils. Don't plant in a shady, wet or poorly drained area.

More details on planting fall bulbs for spring flowers are available at the county Extension office.

STOP TREE INJURY
With cold weather around the corner, it's a good idea to begin saving pine straw, leaves and other materials to use as mulching material this winter.

Cold weather can damage or kill some fruit trees, and a heavy layer of mulch around the base of trees can prevent cold damage. It also keeps weeds under control, so you don't have to use lawn mowers or trimmers near tender trunks.

Remember that mulches around peach, plum, apple, pear and other fruit trees also make good nesting places for field mice. Their chewing habits may damage the trees. To avoid this problem, pull the mulch a few inches away from tree trunks.

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your legal rights.)

Q: Please explain how a lawyer can represent a person charged with a crime when the lawyer knows or is convinced that the person is guilty.

A: The United States Constitution requires the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that a criminal defendant is guilty of the crime charged. Until the state can make such proof, the defendant is presumed to be innocent. One of the highest legal, ethical and moral responsibilities of a lawyer is to ensure that this fundamental right is preserved.

The lawyer's own personal judgment about the guilt or innocence of the client does not affect the presumption of innocence. The lawyer's duty is to defend the client zealously, within the bounds of the law, and to see that the client has his day in court. It is true that this presumption of innocence has shielded some notorious criminals, but it also protects all citizens, including you and me.

Q: I borrowed money from the bank six months ago and now the loan has come "due." I do not have the money, what can I do?

A: You are liable to pay back the face value of the note, plus interest. But you may renew the loan for another six months, if you pay the interest on the loan.

Q: Does a bank have the right to take funds from its customer's account to pay a debt that the customer owes the bank?

A: If a person is indebted to a bank, and the debt is due and unpaid, the bank generally has the right to "set-off" any accounts that the person might have with the bank. That is, the bank may take money from the customer's checking account to apply to the debt.

However, there are certain funds which may not be set-off by a bank. If a customer's account contains funds from social security checks, supplemental security income checks, or veteran's benefits checks, the bank may not take those funds to apply to its customer's debt.

An Open House is scheduled at Bay Junior High on Tuesday, Sept. 23 beginning at 7 p.m.

W. J. Cameron, BJHS principal, reports the Open House will give parents an opportunity to meet teachers and discuss the child's progress as well as view classrooms and other facilities.

We are hoping many parents will take this opportunity to become familiar with the teachers and school facilities.

On Thursday night I had an opportunity of doing something I have wanted to do for a long time, and that was visit the Mississippi Governor's Mansion.

Gov. Bill Allain held a reception and dinner for Mississippi media representatives.

Outlines of programs were given by Gov. Allain, Beverly Hogan, Federal-State programs director; Jerry McDonald, Economic Development director; and Tommy Campbell, fiscal officer.

Our state leaders appear interested in helping to develop new jobs not only by attracting new industry, but also by helping established industries with expansions.

As prospective industrial officials visit our state, they are all impressed with the reception they receive, the only problem is getting them to visit, according to Gov. Allain.

On a tour of the mansion, we were very impressed with the antique furnishings.

Mississippi's Governor Mansion and that of the state of Texas are the only two on the historical register.

Mississippians should be very proud of the mansion and its grounds, as they are very beautiful.

CYTOMEGALOVIRUS:

WHO IS AT RISK

AND HOW DANGEROUS IS IT?

Cytomegalovirus, or CMV, is one of four types of herpes virus. Many people carry the virus and don't even know it because the virus generally isn't harmful to adults. CMV can be extremely dangerous, however, to newborns.

Cytomegalovirus was first identified in humans in 1956, but its recent association with acquired immune deficiency syndrome, or AIDS, has prompted new interest.

Most gay men for some time have been known to have CMV - which can be transmitted sexually or through the blood. Doctors now suspect, however, that some of the complications of AIDS may be related to the fact that CMV also is present.

CMV causes no symptoms or only mild mononucleosis-like symptoms, including fever and fatigue, in most adults. No treatment is available but most adults recover on their own within two to four weeks with aspirin and bedrest.

Some immunosuppressed patients, such as those with leukemia or transplant patients, can get CMV from the donor of the bone marrow or the organ donor.

These patients can die from the complications, so a number of clinicians are recommending that all potential donors and recipients be screened for CMV to avoid this risk.

Doctors are concerned about pregnant women who have symptoms associated with CMV. Pregnant women who acquire a fever, or who feel unusually fatigued with fever should be checked immediately for CMV.

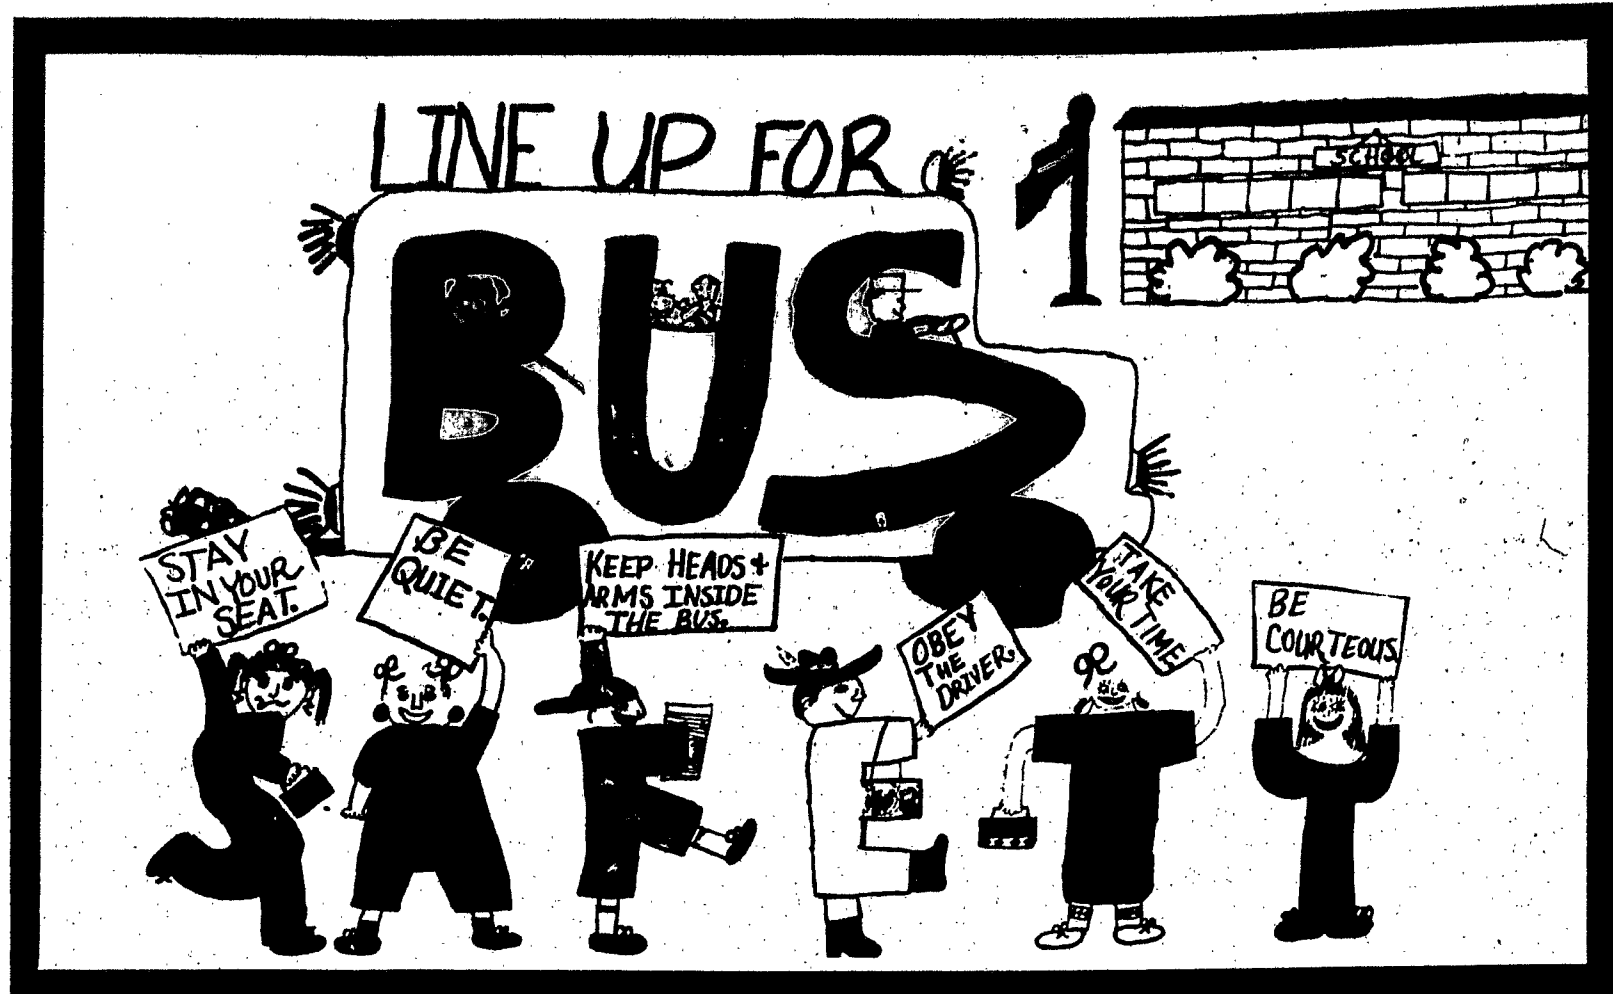

The earlier it strikes during pregnancy, the greater the danger to the infant. The newborn of a CMV mother can suffer from a number of problems including degrees of mental retardation, behavioral abnormalities and physical malformations.

A drug has recently been discovered which may successfully treat CMV in adults, but it's not yet FDA approved and has not been extensively tested.

Dear Sir:

I'm fed up! I recently called my supervisor Jimmy Travirca on several matters that has bothered me badly.

One, I've lived on Washington Road for 43 years. We have never had any problems until lately when Garden Isles Subdivision residents asked for a 4-way stop sign to be put at the crossroad of Chapman Road and Washington Road.

This is the amazing problem, they say people pass down Washington Road too fast. Well, I can tell you who they are - Garden Isles Subdivision residents. The reason they wanted the stop signs on Washington Road is because they don't stop on Chapman Road.

So, I have a better solution, a stop light - maybe they can tell colors. Red is for "stop" and green is for "go."

I was told by Jimmy Travirca that the Sheriff and Police Chief said, "It would be perfect." Well, I never see the sheriff or police chief out here at anytime nor are they residents of this area (Washington Road).

I have asked for an escape route (hurricanes, etc.) out through the old air strip, (County owned land) but that seems to be too much to ask for. It could also serve for the magnetic key holder attached to some place outside of the car is another good preventive measure.

A pair of good quality, long-length jumper cables when the battery fails and a good nylon rope for towing are very good to have when needed.

The above have more than paid for themselves over the many years of my driving experience. The last two not only for myself but also for others in need of help.

residents of Garden Isles Subdivision.

Jimmy Travirca has promised three weeks ago that he would come to talk to me. Well, I have not seen him nor hair of him.

The bayou that is closest to our home has been polluted for over 17 years. The reason I am saying polluted is that after Camille we had feces (bodily waste) with mud in our home.

We had a well-educated health department worker to tell us that you could scoop up a glass of this water and make tea, it was so pure. Well, maybe he could! I guarantee you if you people believe this, I'll sell you some swamp land in Garden Isles Subdivision.

P.S. I have my constitutional right to pass an opinion. I have lived here on Washington Road for 43 years and that gives me my right.

Now if the public officials are so narrow minded not to listen, that's their problem. I can make it my problem next election.

We the people are supposed to make it a better place to live. If no one passes their opinion, how will we know we have a problem?

Gentlemen:

The article that appeared in your paper regarding the Bay St. Louis merchants requesting $5,000 to put signs up to show where Bay St. Louis starts is a great idea, but I think after doing that they should keep some of the money also to replace the street signs.

Some are turned around and you don't know which street is which.

Also, some streets do not have a sign on them, so if you get to Bay St. Louis with the signs to tell you where it is, how do you find out where you are going?

WAR ON DRUGS

We have instituted a new program aimed at fighting the war on drugs in Mississippi.

The "Governor's Alliance Against Drugs" is a public-private sector attempt at fighting the drug problem in Mississippi through education, legislation, prosecution, enforcement, treatment and prevention.

The Alliance is the third phase of a drug program in the Governor's Office. It is the final, long-range plan for fighting drug abuse in Mississippi. It will bring together everyone working on the drug problem in Mississippi under one focal point and devise a method of control and enforcement using all the resources available to us.

The first step in forming the Alliance was the appointment of a task force to identify every group presently working on drug control, enforcement or education. The task force includes top state agency heads in these areas.

Members of the task force announced Thursday are Public Safety Commissioner James L. Roberts, Narcotics Bureau Director Donald Butler, Mental Health Director Jan Duker, State Education Superintendent Richard Boyd, State Health Officer Alton Cobb, Criminal Justice Planning Director Roy Thigpen, Corrections Commissioner Morris Thigpen, Youth Services Director Jimmy Russell, Adjutant General Nat Trout, College Board President Bryce Griffis, Junior College Board President Tom Childs and gubernatorial Assistant James Dixon.

The task force will identify the groups working on the drug problem and, through their input, determine the best direction for statewide drug reduction program.

They will also identify funding sources for the program, including pending Congressional action and existing grants.

They will also monitor Washington activities in the drug war and communicate with our Congressional delegation for input into federal legislation on drugs.

Our goal is to make the "Governor's Alliance Against Drugs" a program that includes these state agencies, local law enforcement officials, local schools, business people, parents, church groups, youth groups, and any other group interested in fighting against drugs. This is a battle that cannot be won without the cooperation of every concerned Mississippian, and we want to identify people who will help us.

The first two phases of our efforts to control drugs in Mississippi dealt with law enforcement. In January 1985, we met with other Gulf States Governors to devise means of controlling the Gulf Coast border against incoming drugs. As a result of the meeting, the Congress authorized military involvement in patrolling the borders for drug activity.

In the Fall of 1985, I requested that U.S. Attorney General Ed Meese grant Mississippi more federal drug agents. That request was endorsed by Mississippi's Congressional delegation.

Also last fall, I established Operation Seek and Destroy, a force that combined all state and local law enforcement and legal officials in reducing the marijuana crop grown within Mississippi.

To date, our efforts have been in the area of law enforcement. Now we are focusing on an overall program that begins prior to arrest and continues beyond it.

We're Fighting For Your Life.

Congressional committee moves to help homeless veterans

WASHINGTON— An estimated 250 to 350 thousand homeless people roam the streets of America on any given day. Government statistics indicate that at least one-third are veterans, and studies consistently show this number growing. One official calls it an "explosion."

With these statistics in mind, Rep. Tom Daschle (D-SD) called together officials of the Department of Health and Human Services, the Veterans Administration, the Department of Labor, the National Coalition for the Homeless, and veterans' service organizations to establish "a clearer plan" for addressing the homelessness problem.

"We don't need more studies to understand one thing - that it's our clear responsibility to reach out to these individuals who served their country and provide what assistance we can," said Daschle. "Our commitment to 'care for him who shall have borne the battle' also includes the homeless, unemployed veteran."

Officials told the Veteran's Affairs Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment, chaired by Daschle, that unemployment, deinstitutionalization/mental illness, drug and alcohol abuse, and the lack of affordable housing are among the causes of homelessness.

The prevalent stereotype of a homeless person is that of an older male alcoholic. While statistics cited by Labor officials do indicate that a majority of the homeless are males and that alcohol abuse is significant, they also show the problem affects a cross section of the population:

—The median age of the homeless is 34; ten to 15 percent are over age 50, and about six percent are over 60.

—Reliable estimates are that up to one-third of the homeless have mental disabilities.

The Subcommittee was also told that there is an increasing number of young families and single parents with children entering the ranks of the homeless, that 12-13 percent of the homeless population are single women, and that minorities comprise 44 percent of the homeless.

Statistics vary from agency to agency due to the special characteristics of a hard-to-reach homeless population, one that often defies the gathering of completely accurate information. However, it is generally acknowledged that the beginning of the solution is outreach, including visits by Veterans Administration, labor, and/or HHS officials to shelters, soup kitchens, and the streets to make contact with the homeless, to counsel them, and to bring them into the entitlement and service systems.

Bill Cooner, a former unemployed and homeless veteran from New York, said that during his time in shelters he never once saw an outreach effort. "Perhaps a social worker or local newscaster would wander through...you find outreach in the telephone book, not out reaching," said Cooner.

Donald Shasteen, assistant secretary of labor for Veterans' Employment and Training, described a new program the department is launching in ten cities across the nation called Jobs for Homeless Veterans.

Under the program, homeless and former homeless veterans are hired to provide crucial outreach to other veterans to steer them toward rehabilitation and stable employment.

Daschle sees federal agencies establishing closer ties and coordinating efforts with one another as well as with state, local and private-sector forces and veterans' organizations as a key to the solution to homelessness.

Dr. Harvey R. Vieth, chairman of the Federal Task Force on the Homeless, emphasized the importance of "sensitizing" veterans' service organizations nationwide. Vieth said he knew of no group more effective at helping "their own."

"I for one am only beginning to learn of the magnitude of this problem," said Daschle, "but I have been able to determine that there is a danger of running in circles with it and providing nothing but lip service while our veterans go hungry and without shelter. It is time to go beyond lip service. We have to be careful that when all is said and done, there isn't more said than done. It is time for action."

Mr. Law Enforcement Officer

"The law enforcement officer and the citizen"

By Mr. LEO

The question has been asked by Mrs. T.A. Conway whether or not there is a ruling on cars driving at night with only one headlight. The answer, of course, is yes.

Let me quote from the section of the state statutes called the "Rules of the Road." Section 63-7-13 entitled "Required lighting equipment on vehicles," paragraph (1) - Head lamps on motor vehicles - "Every motor vehicle other than a motor cycle or motor-driven cycle shall be equipped with at least two head lamps with at least one on each side of the front of the motor vehicle, which head lamps shall comply with the requirements and limitation set forth in section 63-7-31."

Section 63-7-31 simply states the function of the lights and how far ahead the high and low beams should illuminate.

When the section states "equipped" it means that both lights are to be fully functional. Not to have both head lamps working is a violation of this state statute and is a misdemeanor traffic violation.

In most police departments the division that would handle such complaints is the traffic division. However, Mrs. Conway, you should also remember this is a misdemeanor traffic violation and for an officer to issue a citation for it, he or she must observe it for him or herself.

Other required equipment on vehicles that you may be interested in are:

1. Rear tail lights - at least one visible to 100 feet.
 2. License plate light - visible to 50 feet.
 3. Safety belts - both front seat passengers.
 4. Horns - audible to 200 feet.
 5. Tires with proper tread.
 6. Brakes within specified qualifications.
 7. Mufflers - in good working order.
 8. Mirrors - at least one rear view, unobstructed.
 9. Child passenger restraint device - for children 2 years and younger.

Driver's license exam schedules reported

JACKSON— To better accommodate persons applying for or renewing a driver's license, the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol is listing the open-for-business days and hours of its examining stations throughout the state.

Major Jerry Jones, director of the Highway Patrol's Driver Services Bureau, said some of the days and hours of the state's 82 stations have been changed to provide maximum service to the public even though there has been a reduction in driver license examining personnel.

"The retirement of 128 officers from this agency has affected the manpower in all the driver services functions just as it has within the enforcement division," Jones said.

"A Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol cadet school is slated to begin in early 1987. We anticipate that when those graduates join the sworn ranks of this agency it will help to alleviate the shortage in manpower we currently are experiencing in all areas of public service," the major said.

Jones said a year ago, 47 examiners and 49 testing clerks manned 91 examining stations throughout the state. Currently, there are 36 examiners and 48 testing clerks manning 82 stations. He reminded citizens that they may renew their licenses at any examining station.

The following list provides the open-for-business days and hours of driver license examining stations in Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol District Eight headquartered in Gulfport and includes George, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River and Stone counties:

Tigers defeat Blue Devils 20-6 for second conference victory

BY DENA BISNETTE

In a game that featured some cliff-hanger drives Friday, the Bay St. Louis Senior High Tigers defeated the Pearl River Central Blue Devils 20-6 for the Tigers' second conference and district win.

The Tigers received the kick-off and began a drive that ended on the Pearl River 30 yardline when the Blue Devils scooped up a fumble.

The Blue Devils, using running plays for long yardage, carried the ball deep into Tiger territory in an unsuccessful drive that ended on the Bay High eight.

The Bay High defense successfully shut down a fourth down running attempt by Blue Devil quarterback Cedric Tillman and the ball was turned back over to the Tigers on downs with about two minutes left in the first quarter.

The Tigers started a drive back from their own six yardline, taking the ball onto Blue Devil turf to set up Bay High's first touchdown.

The night's first touchdown was scored on a seven-yard run by Tiger running back Brian Laneaux, who followed his run with an extra point kick that gave the Tigers a 7-0 lead with 7:38 left in the second quarter.

The Blue Devils tried unsuccessfully to get revenge by opening another drive with a long run by Tillman, putting the ball on the Tiger 43 yardline.

The drive ended on the Bay High 25 when Tiger guard Greg Necaise grabbed a Pearl River fumble.

The Tigers, sticking to their ground game and passing rarely Friday, drove the ball down the field with power plays for their second touchdown, scored by Laneaux on a 17-yard run with 3:14 to go in the first half.

Laneaux kicked again to post a halftime score of 14-0 for Bay High.

Second half action included a scoreless third quarter for both teams.

In fourth quarter action, the first Tiger drive failed to take Bay High close enough to the goal line and the ball was punted back to the Blue Devils, who pushed it down to the Bay High four.

Pearl River Central took to the air on a third down play, but Tiger Dante Curry blocked the pass in the endzone and Bay got the ball back on downs.

Curry was also credited with an interception when Pearl River again attempted to pass.

Curry's interception put the Tigers on their own three, beginning another drive.

The score at the end of that drive, however, turned out to be for Pearl River and not Bay High when Tillman recovered a Tiger fumble in the endzone for a touchdown, giving the Blue Devils their first six points.

An extra point kick attempt was unsuccessful.

The Tigers' next drive was halted on the Pearl River 12 yard line when the ball was turned over on downs. Bay High got a second chance, however, when Curry intercepted a Pearl River pass, putting the ball down on the Blue Devil seven.

Laneaux put a field goal through the uprights for the Tigers, posting a final score of 20-6 with 2:51 left in the game.

Necaise was selected as outstanding defensive player for the game; Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams said, "Necaise had 16 assisted tackles and three unassisted tackles."

Britt Woods also did an outstanding job on defense, the coach said.

"Everybody on defense gave quite a contribution. They were in on a lot of plays. They had more gang tackles than solo tackles," Williams added.

"Our defensive backs did a good job containing their receivers. Pearl River caught only two passes all night and those didn't hurt us any."

"Our defensive ends, Robert Hargett and Geja Carter, did a terrific job keeping Tillman from running outside, even though we had some breakdowns in our defensive tackles," he added.

"Our offensive line came off the ball pretty well last night, but our timing was not what it should be at this point. By Friday, our timing should be much better. For this game, we had several returning players who had been out with injuries."

Williams named quarterback Dwayne Robertson outstanding on offense.

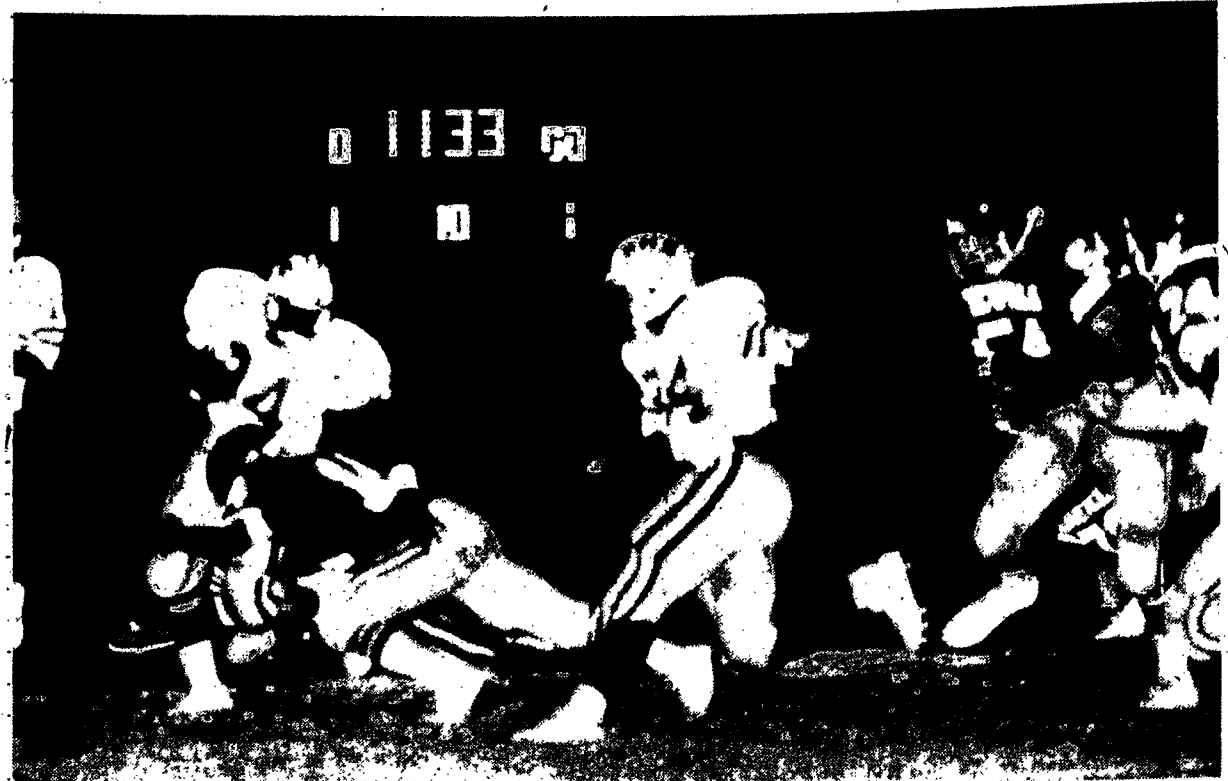

"Robertson was superb handing off and being a true leader off and on the field during the game, keeping the team's composure. He also ran the option real well," the coach explained.

"Overall, the offensive line did well. Billy Ross did good job returning after being out for a game and a half, along with Necaise and Carter."

Williams also credited Doral Nichols, Courtney Laureys, Mike LeGros and Amadee Collins with good offensive line performance.

Laneaux had a total of 101 yards

CATCHING CURRY—Pearl River Central's Cedric Tillman (14) finds that catching Bay High's Dante Curry (24) takes a little ground work. Curry's teammate, Brian Laneaux (34) rushes in to help. Curry was rushing, followed by Aaron Whavers with 75 yards, Quentin Bell with 48 and Robertson with 40.

"We had only 55 yards in penalties. That's not as bad as the first two ball games."

Williams said the support the team received from the fans and Tiger band on their first road game of the season provided the team with an uplift that may have contributed to a better performance Friday.

In addition, the Tigers' strategy for the game worked better than it has so far this season.

"Our play selection was good. We were really looking at things," the coach commented.

He said the Tigers used a lot of power plays, runs up the middle, and very little passing.

"Assistant coaches Gale McRaney and Bob Lumpkin both did a terrific job for this game. They are truly hard workers and all that work is beginning to start paying off right now," Williams added.

The Tigers have more hard work ahead of them this week as they prepare for Friday, when Bay High hosts Vancleave, now 0-3, in another conference and district game.

The Tigers are now 2-1, with one conference and district win over Pass Christian and a conference and district loss against Stone County.

Carey announces fall baseball schedule

HATTIESBURG—Coach Bobby Halford has announced the fall 1986 baseball schedule of William Carey College in Hattiesburg.

The NAIA District 30 champs will be playing at least 25 games, with the possibility of more as the season progresses.

Included in the fall schedule are dates with the University of Southern Mississippi and action in the prestigious Pensacola Fall Classis baseball tournament.

Halford will be assisted in the fall by Crusader assistant coach Jim Nightingale, and other former Crusader standouts Jim Bryant and Albert Farmer.

Bryant, also a member of the Seattle Mariners organization, will work primarily with the pitchers.

Farmer plays in the Texas Rangers organization and will assist with the infielders.

HEALTH AWARENESS

A special program called "OK Heart" documents one of the most ambitious and comprehensive community health awareness programs to date in which the citizens of one city set out to do battle with heart disease. "OK Heart" can be seen at 9 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 25 on Mississippi ETV.

The program, hosted by Cliff Robertson, illustrated how individuals in Pennsylvania's Wyoming Valley identified their own risk factors by taking the Arizona Heart Institute's unique "Heart Test," a 12-part questionnaire.

"OK Heart" follows the project as a series of health and fitness programs were administered throughout the area in an effort to establish new lifestyle trends and promote improved physical and mental health.

Coast Episcopal loses in Louisiana

The Coast Episcopal Raiders traveled to Baton Rouge to take on the Cornerstone Cardinals on Saturday, Sept. 13.

The final score was 33 to 14 with Cornerstone scoring their second victory of the season.

The game was hard fought all the way with the Raiders scoring first in the first quarter with Senior Henry Furr going in for the touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Cornerstone Academy came back in the second quarter on a 56 yard scoring pass from their tailback to their quarterback. The game was tied at the half.

In the third quarter, the Raider defense gave up three touchdowns on a mixture of running and passing plays. The Raiders came back to score again in the fourth quarter but could not overcome the big three-touchdown deficit.

Key players in the game were Senior quarterback Mike Hart, who passed for 133 yards, completing six of 10 passes.

Sophomore tailback, Sterline Thibodeaux, ran for 41 yards and caught passes for 83 yards and one touchdown. On defense, Seniors John Gregory and Bill Riggs combined for 13 tackles with Victor Marchese adding another four.

The Raiders were to play their first home game of the season Saturday at 4 p.m. against the always tough Central Academy of Baton Rouge.

Hawks dominate ball, defeat Stone County

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Charles Burton and Delano Lewis combined for 269 yards rushing to provide Hancock North Central with the offensive punch to dominate the ball Friday in their 24-7 win over the undefeated Stone County Tomcats.

"We had a real good night and the team played a fine football game," Hawk Head Coach Irvin Favre said.

The team really got it all together and took charge of the game, he said.

Favre shared credit for the win with assistant coaches Rocky Gaudin, Tim Favre and Shaw.

"We really worked hard this week and the excellent work of the assistant coaches was seen tonight," he said.

Favre also gave credit to the fans for the win.

"I have been coaching here for many years and I have never seen such excitement and support from the fans and the team really responded to this," he added.

Shaw summed up the second half of play by the Hawks as the best in eight years.

"The Hawks totally dominated the Lewis also rushed for more than 100 yards, hitting for 114 on his way to two touchdowns.

He was also ranked as one of the leading defensive players for the Hawks in the game.

Other outstanding defensive players included Cory Blaize, Duane Acker, Earl Brown, Jesse Dupree and Jeff Moran.

Larry Beech started off the game with a 56-yard kickoff.

Stone County gained 14 yards on their first play but a clipping penalty put them back to their own 10-yard line. The Tomcats were unsuccessful in gaining a first down.

Burton received the punt for the Hawks and returned it 26 yards giv-point to tie the score.

After several unsuccessful possessions by both teams, Burton returned a Tomcat punt 33 yards into Stone territory, but a clipping call moved the Hawks back near midfield.

In this series the Hawks picked up three first downs to move into field

DELANO LEWIS, senior halfback for the Hancock North Central Hawks, was one of the leading offensive and defensive players in the game against the Stone County Tomcats. Lewis rushed for 114 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Beech split the uprights for the field goal and the Hawks moved up 10-7 with four minutes left in the half.

Following halftime activities, Hancock returned to the field to receive the ball and score in just five plays.

Burton gained 21 yards on two carries, Donald Vince added five and Lewis carried it in from 27 yards out for the touchdown.

ing the Hawks first and ten deep inside Stone County territory.

Quarterback Brett Favre handed off to Lewis, who ran unchecked into the endzone for a Hawk touchdown with 9:30 left in the first quarter.

Tim Prince made the extra point. Stone County's Tay Galloway made a 37-yard first down run on the first play of their next possession.

Galloway rushed for three more yards before Michael Howze ran for a 28-yard touchdown that was nullified due to an illegal procedure call.

Howze took the ball again gaining 14 yards and Bryant Herrion added five before another penalty cost the Tomcats 15 yards.

Stone Quarterback Corey Diaz gained 13 yards on a keeper play and then handed off to Galloway for a 21-yard touchdown run.

Shaw said Stone keyed on stopping Halfback Burton but was unable to prevent Hawk touchdowns by Lewis.

"If a team is able to stop Burton, we will still find a way to score," he added.

The Tomcats were not able to shut down Burton, who was the leading rusher with 145 yards and a TD on the night.

The Hawks had a total offense of 301 yards. Stone County rushed for 124 yards and 81 passing.

Bigger is better as Jackets wear down the Pirates, 21-6

By EDGAR H. PEREZ
Pass Christian's triple-threat quarterback Shinnall Conway Friday posted the only score credited to the Pirates in a hard-fought high school football contest against the St. Martin Yellow Jackets in Jackson County. Conway hit the Yellow Jacket end zone in the opening seconds of the second period on a run, but failed in an ensuing attempt to kick an extra point. St. Martin's sophomore quarterback Jerry Hilton opened the scoring in the ball game with a four-yard touchdown run in the first quarter followed by a one-point conversion kick by Shannon Heirs, a 190-pound senior guard.

The Yellow Jackets accessed the scoreboard again in the first stanza when sophomore Charles Polk, a 180-pound tailback, pushed over from the four.

Heirs added another point giving the Jackets a first-half total of 14 to the Pirates' six.

The half-time intermission included three rousing dirges by the Pirate Band and a smashing jazz medley by the Yellow Jacket musical aggregation.

After an intentional grounding call on third down of the opening possession of the second half, St. Martin was facing fourth and 30 at their own 15.

Sparked by a 20-yard punt return, the Pirates drove in four tries to a first down at the Jacket 20.

Jacket senior fullback Tommy Weldy took advantage of a fumble by Pass fullback Tim Murrell to regain the ball for St. Martin at their own 15.

But the Jackets couldn't get through the Pirate defenses and were forced to punt on fourth down from the 24.

Sparked by their hard-driving tailback Derrick Benoit, the Pirates drove to the St. Martin 23 in ten plays before the Jackets forced a turnover on downs at the opening of the fourth quarter.

In a dozen plays—which included aerial completions from Hilton to senior split end Kenny McAtee for 31 and to Weldy for ten—the Jackets drove to the Pirate three where they lost the ball on a fumble in the end zone.

The Pirates took over on their 20 but were held to a punt situation at the 25.

Polk exploded on first down at his 39 on a 60-yard touchdown run, powering his way through the entire Pirate secondary.

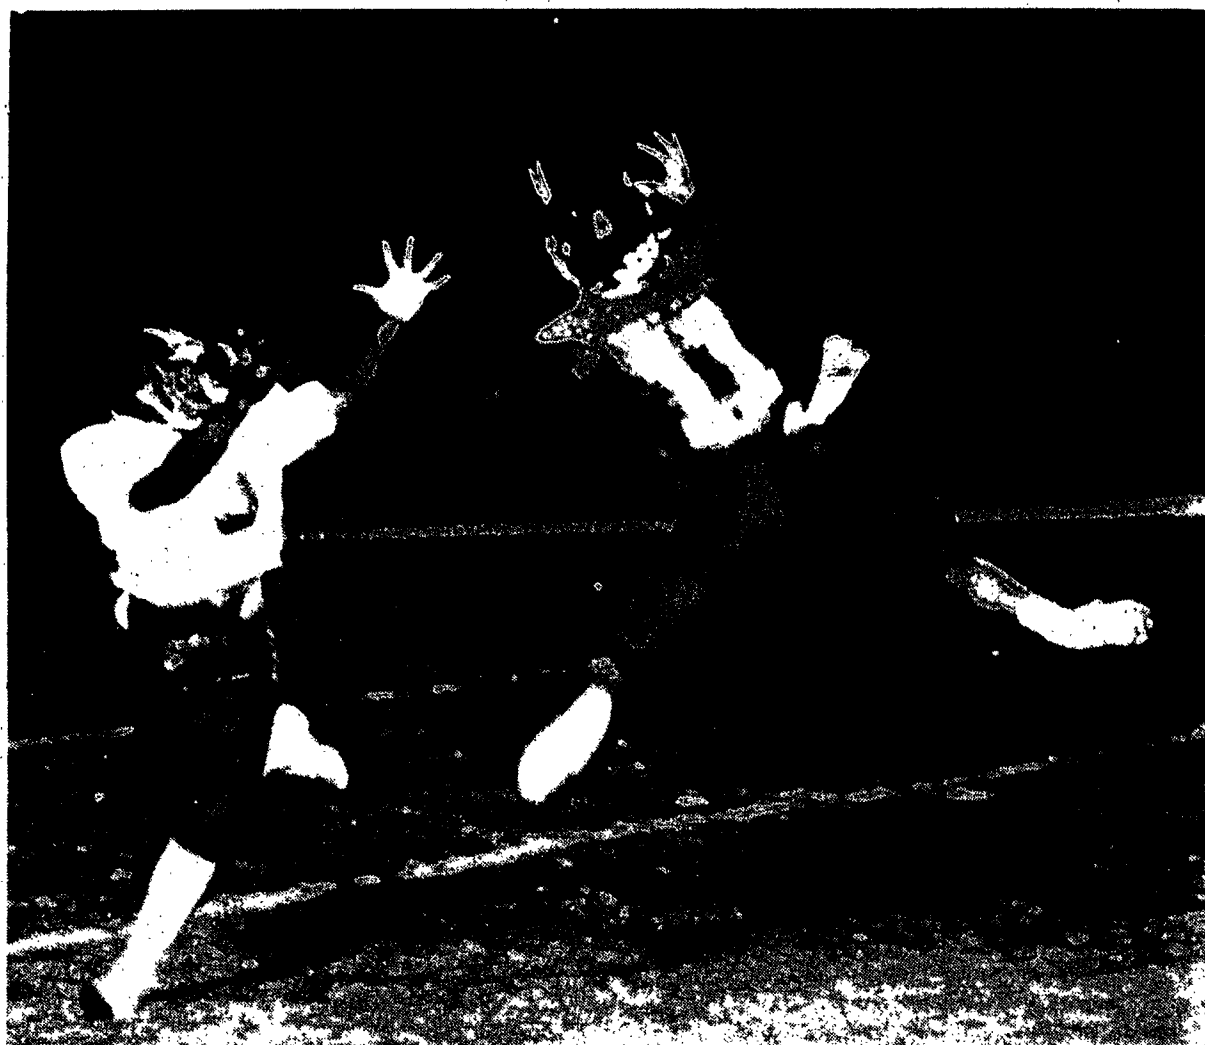

Heirs posted his third and final extra point with five minutes left in the game, putting the jackets out front 21-6.

The Pirates were unable to move the ball back into Jacket territory on five tries and gave it up near mid-field where St. Martin forced the clock to run out, assuring a victory.

The Pirates this week will be aiming their artillery at the high-flying Hawks of Hancock North Central who remain undefeated after dumping previously unbeaten Stone County Friday.

The Pirates will attempt to bring the Hawks back down to earth at the HNC 'nest' in White Cypress Community.

USM releases fall baseball schedule

HATTIESBURG—A 20-game fall baseball schedule was released by University of Southern Mississippi head baseball coach Hill Denson and athletic director Bill McLellan.

The schedule features games with some opponents that are on the spring schedule, plus a few that do not normally appear on the Golden Eagles schedule, such as cross-town rival William Carey College, Jones County Junior College and Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College.

The annual Old Timers game is scheduled on Oct. 17 as a Homecoming feature, and the USM JuCo Fall Tourney is slated for Oct. 20-24. The Second Annual Intra-squad World Series will be held Nov. 6-14 to conclude the fall season.

Denson equated the fall season to spring football practice as he explained the need for a fall schedule. "Baseball is taught in game-type situations, and we use the fall to basically determine a depth chart for the spring," he said.

"We don't even use our game uniforms in any of these games, and they are all scheduled with teams that are nearby to keep expenses to a minimum. The NCAA allows a 20-game season in the fall, with no limitations on who you play.

"We really don't put much emphasis on winning or losing, but rather on teaching and practicing in game conditions, so we try to give everyone on the roster a chance to play," he concluded.

The complete schedule follows:

SEPTEMBER

25- at Gulf Coast JC; 29- County JC, home.

OCTOBER

1- at Southeastern La.; 3- UNO, home; 6- at William Carey; 7- at South Alabama; 8- at Gulf Coast JC; 9- Jones County JC, home; 11- Kansas City CC, home; 12- Kansas City CC, home; 14- Gulf Coast JC, home; 15- at Tulane; 16- William Carey, home; 17- Old Timers game, home; 19- Tulane, home; 20-24- USM JuCo Fall Tourney, home; 26- Livingston, home; 28- Southeastern La., home; 29- at UNO; 31- South Alabama, home.

Mississippi State defending fourth Transylvania Bowl title

Alumni and fans of Mississippi State University, University of Southern Mississippi and the University of Mississippi are "out for blood" once again in Mississippi Blood Services' 1986 Transylvania Bowl. The annual blood donor competition kicked off Friday, August 22.

The university that finished with the most units of blood donated in its name will receive a $1,000 scholarship sponsored by The Sunburst Bank, The Grenada Banking System.

The alumnus, fan or group recruiting the most donors for the winning university will have the honor of naming the college at the university (i.e. Arts and Sciences, Engineering, etc.) that is to receive the scholarship.

The traveling Transylvania Trophy will also be awarded to the winning university.

The 1986 competition will conclude on Friday, Nov. 21, the day prior to the Mississippi State-Ole Miss football game. The scholarship and trophy will be awarded during pre-game ceremonies Nov. 22.

Only those donors who state their desire to participate in the Transylvania Bowl will be counted in this year's competition. Donors will not receive any reminder at the time of donation.

Assisting Mississippi Blood Services in coordinating the 1986 Transylvania Bowl are Hinds County alumni presidents Russ Gatlin of Mississippi State, Ken Rushing of Southern and Preston Hays of Ole Miss.

"All three universities are extremely competitive when it comes to demonstrating their school spirit, especially when it comes to giving blood," said Vicki Powell, MSB Director of Communication.

Mississippi State won the 1985 competition with 1,712 donations, marking the group's fourth Transylvania Bowl win. The Golden Eagles came in a close second with 1,511 units of blood. The Rebels ranked third with 1,296 donations.

Powell added that the ultimate beneficiaries of each group's efforts in the competition are the patients in Mississippi hospitals who depend on MBS volunteer blood donors to meet their blood needs.

Persons interested in participating in the competition may donate blood at the following MBS Processing Centers:

2807 Old Canton Road, Jackson, Mississippi 39216-4293, Monday-Friday, 10:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m., Saturday, 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m., Sunday, 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Hospital offers advice on coping with emergencies

Emergency Medical Services Week Sept. 21-27 is sponsored by the American College of Emergency Physicians. This particular week is designed to encourage people to learn more about the emergency medical resources in their communities.

The newest specialty in medicine, emergency medicine, is the practice of evaluating, stabilizing and treating life-and-limb-threatening illnesses and injuries.

Emergency physicians provide this care in emergency departments. Each year more than 78 million Americans turn to emergency departments for medical care.

As part of its observance of 1986 Emergency Medical Services Week, AMI Garden Park Community Hospital offers the following information to help in the event of a medical emergency.

HOW TO PREPARE FOR AN EMERGENCY:

Start with the hospital where your family doctor has admitting privilege.

Proximity to your home is also important, as well as finding the easiest route by car or public transportation.

Get a map of your community (the local chamber of commerce usually has these). Post the map where all family members can find it.

Indicate emergency spots, such as hospitals, your doctors' offices and police and fire departments.

Post a list of phone number for:

- 1) police and fire departments
- 2) ambulances
- 3) paramedics
- 4) burn and trauma centers
- 5) your family doctor
- 6) nearest relative or neighbor in case your children are alone or with a babysitter.

Most doctors consider any of the following an emergency:

- Severe and uncontrollable bleeding
- Poisoning
- Choking
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Convulsions
- Severe burns (heat or chemical)
- Bullet or stab wounds
- Unconsciousness
- Overdose of drugs
- Severe chest pains
- Eye injuries or foreign substance in the eye or sudden loss of vision
- Heat stroke/dehydration
- Hypothermia (dangerously low body temperature)
- Broken bones
- Head injury
- Smoke inhalation
- Inhalation of gaseous fumes
- Severe abdominal pain
- Slurring or loss of speech
- Temperature over 103 degrees
- Prolonged vomiting or diarrhea
- Snake or animal bites.

When in doubt, call the E.R. or your doctor. They are available to serve your needs and to help you avoid more serious problems.

Each patient determines whether he or she has a medical emergency; however, the prompt action in treating a medical problem such as an emergency often means the difference between life and death.

Chamber chairman reports successful membership drive

Hancock County Chamber officials are encouraged by the progress of their current countrywide membership drive, according to Joyce Lee, membership chairman.

"Memberships are pouring into the office," she said, "and we are very pleased at the progress thus far."

This year's theme for the drive is "Make the Chamber Choice. The Chamber is the one partner every business needs."

Businesses and individuals throughout Hancock County have been contacted by mail, and the teams are now following up in person.

Team chairmen for the event are Joyce Lee, David Compretta, Sherlyn Breland, Ellen Kane and Cathy Ladner. Their teams are competing to win a trip to New Orleans via Celebrity Limousines for two nights at the International Hotel on St. Charles Ave.

To celebrate the end of the drive, the Chamber will host an end-of-the-summer cookout on Sunday, Sept. 28 at Pavillion No. 3 in Buccaneer State Park, Waveland.

Cooks for the event will be Circuit Clerk John Rutherford, Waveland Mayor John Longo and Beat Five Supervisor Jimmy Travirca.

The menu will include steak, baked potato, corn, salad and garlic bread. The cookout will be from noon to 5 p.m., with lunch being served from noon to 2 p.m.

Cost for the cookout is $7 per person, and Chamber members and their guests are urged to make advance reservations to attend.

Reservations for the cookout and more information on chamber membership may be obtained by contacting the chamber office at 467-9048.

Timberline

By Mark Jamieson
County Forester

Harold Anderson, district information-education forester in the Forestry Commission's Philadelphia Office, has put together an interesting series of articles dealing with one of the most destructive enemies of Mississippi's pine forests - the Southern Pine Beetle.

We think a lot of our readers would benefit from reading those articles so we are going to use them in this column for the next few editions. Following is the first one, in which we get a quick look into the general history of "Dendroctonus frontalis."

Mississippi is currently undergoing the worst outbreak of Southern Pine Beetles in years. Fifty-two counties have infestations. In 19 counties the beetles have reached the epidemic level as of Aug. 11.

Here in Hancock County we do not have a problem at this time. But we feel landowners should be concerned and informed about this potential threat to the timber resource.

In this series of articles, we'll look in depth at this insect, called "the most destructive pest of the Southern forest." Hopefully, we'll clear up some misconceptions in the process.

The information presented here is taken from the authoritative book "The Southern Pine Beetle," published by the U.S. Forest Service Expanded Southern Pine Beetle Research and Applications Program.

Every time there's a flare-up of Southern Pine Beetle activity, some landowners will remark, "I'm not going to plant any pine trees, that 'new beetle' will just kill them." Some have even voiced fears that the beetle will completely wipe out our pine forests.

These fears are unfounded. Most extremely destructive forest pests, such as the gypsy moth and others like the fire ant, are introduced pests that have no natural enemies. The Southern Pine Beetle is a native to the Americas as the pine trees it feeds on.

In North America, its distribution roughly coincides with the continuous distribution of loblolly pine, as well as in an area ranging from Arizona to Honduras where loblolly is distributed in a more scattered pattern.

This is not a "new beetle." There are historical records, going back to 1750, of small black beetles killing large tracts of pine timber.

Accurate records have only been kept since 1960. From 1960-1978, more than $225 million worth of timber was killed in the South.

Major epidemics occur about every 10 years, but not all across the beetle's range at the same time. The beetles are in an epidemic stage somewhere all the time.

An epidemic usually runs its course in two years or less. Pine beetles have lots of enemies. They are infected by bacteria, attacked by parasitic mites, and eaten by other insects and birds (especially woodpeckers.)

In years when there aren't many pine beetles, there aren't many of these other creatures either, because they don't have much to eat (pine beetles.)

When the Southern Pine Beetle population suddenly mushrooms, the population of these other creatures does likewise. But the pine beetles have a head start, and are so productive—they can have up to nine generations per year—that it takes awhile for predators to get them under control.

But, you may ask, "Aren't Southern Pine Beetles worse now than they used to be?"

Yes, because we have more pine trees than we used to. Many of our modern forests consist of acre after acre of pine trees, crowded as close together as we can get them.

The trees of the virgin forest were much more widely spaced, and interspersed with stands of hardwoods.

But with proper management, it is possible to have highly productive pine forests, and keep Southern Pine Beetles to a minimum. We'll explain how in future articles.

Mississippi Gulf Coast Craftsmen's Guild

MUSEUM CURATOR SPEAKS TO CRAFTSMEN'S GUILD

Val Husley is enthusiastic about his work. That was obvious when he addressed the members of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Craftsmen's Guild on Monday, Sept. 8.

Dr. Husley, curator of the Seafood Industry Museum, described the museum as a celebration of crafts, those crafts specifically related to the seafood industry.

The Gulf Coast native spent several years in West Virginia after earning his doctorate at Mississippi State University. He recently returned to the Coast to make the museum a reality. He says the preparation for the opening was a three-year job that was completed in eight months.

Nearly 5,000 visitors toured the museum on opening day in late March of this year, and an additional 8,000 have visited the museum since then. According to the guest register, the visitors have come from 34 states and 15 foreign countries.

Among the crafts celebrated by the museum, the most prominent is boat-building, still a major craft in this area. A related craft is netmaking, which arrived here with the Europeans and flourished for many years. Now that most nets are made by machine, this craft is dwindling, but respect for the craft is very strong.

Another craft of the seafood industry is marine blacksmithing, which produced the hand-hammered and hand-forged tooth-bars and other metal components of the oyster dredge.

It may be difficult to find a craftsman handstitching sails today, but sailmaking was once a necessary craft of the seafood industry. Another marine art from that era uncommon today is caulking. Steel hulls have made this art unnecessary.

According to Dr. Husley, man is a tool-user, and his proficiency with tools makes him a craftsman. The craftsmen of the seafood industry were major contributors to the success of that industry.

The Seafood Industry Museum is housed in the renovated Old Coast Guard Barracks at Point Cadet Plaza in Biloxi. Through artifacts, photographs, and other displays, the museum tells the story of the people, products and technology of the local seafood industry. It is open 9 to 5 Tuesday through Saturday and noon to 5 Sunday.

The next membership meeting of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Craftsmen's Guild will be Nov. 10, at which time final preparations will be made for the Christmas Arts and Crafts Show and Sale to be held Nov. 28 and 29 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center.

Clermont Handcrafters

Clermont Handcrafters met Sept. 4 in Gulf National Bank meeting room. Due to the heat a short meeting was held.

Members present discussed plans for a coming Christmas party.

Since our in-club craft sale was so successful, a unanimous vote to have an in-club sale next year was recorded.

Four lap robes were shown and were to be sent to the Dixie White House Nursing Home.

All enjoyed cake and drinks supplied by our hostesses, Betty Klein and Dot Neubig.

A Volunteer Program has been instituted at the school with close to 60 hours of volunteer work already logged by parents. You don't need to be a parent, though, to provide volunteer services.

The 17th annual meeting of POW/MIA was the largest held with over 1,200 individuals attending. It was agreed to the tremendous support for pursuing established league direction and continued support for the President's policy of highest national priority, always vigilant for improvements but encouraged by increasing progress.

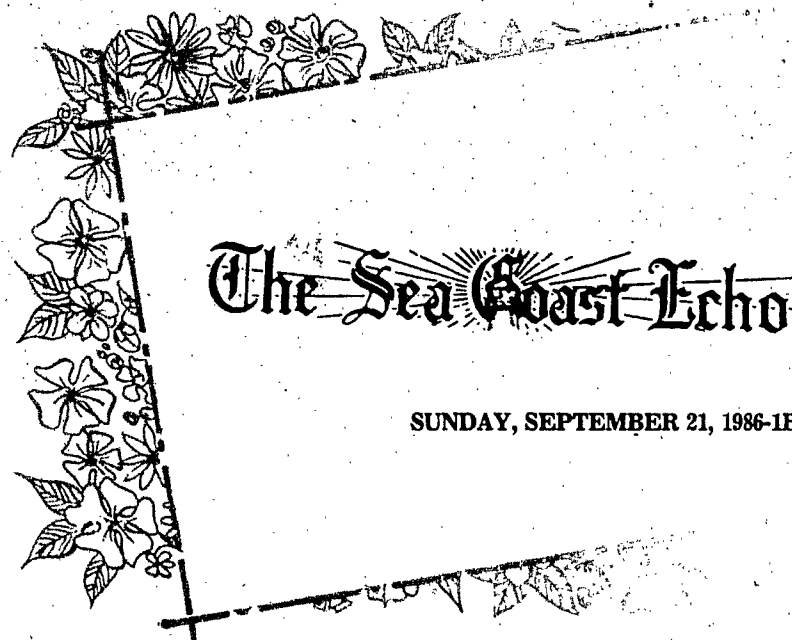

A major highlight during the 17th annual meeting was the President's nationwide radio address on July 19.

The entire message was devoted to the POW/MIA issue, quoted in part as follows:

"We will apply every resource we can to achieve the fullest possible accounting of your relatives still missing in Southeast Asia. This is, of course, a difficult and emotional issue. But we have made progress, and the truth is we will continue to make progress as long as we stick with the facts and keep faith with each other and demonstrate the unity of purpose so fundamental to our cause. All Americans, after all, have a common goal in this endeavor, freedom for any prisoner who may still be held in Southeast Asia and justice for all of the families who have worked so long to resolve the fate of our POW/MIA in Vietnam."

Mrs. Mattie North, president of the American Legion Auxiliary No. 139 of Bay St. Louis is encouraging the importance of public awareness. We cannot forget our POW/MIA.

possible at his Cedar Point home. The famous musician was surprised to find his Bay St. Louis mail-carrier is Donald Cuevas, Irv's brother, who Fountain said exemplifies the friendly-spirit of folks in the Bay. The popular entertainer said he "looks forward to Peewee's stops at my place, sharing chit-chat, and getting brought up to date on what's been happening since my last visit." Irv Cuevas said, "It's been many years since enjoying Fountain's jazz music, and the Los Angeles appearance was terrific." Cuevas is a news producer and news writer in Hollywood who returns to Bay St. Louis at least once a year.
